REPORT NO.

1. The Agrupacion Socialista Obrera (ASO-Socialist Workers' Group), which was formed by the dissident Socialists who were recently expelled from the Socialist Party of Uruguay (cf. [REDACTED]), will begin publishing a newspaper called Clase Obrera. Jose D'Elia will serve as director of this publication and Luis Ruben Castillo as editor.
2. ASO is attempting to gain support in the labor unions located in the interior of Uruguay. It has succeeded in obtaining the backing of Ramon Barboza, the labor leader considered to have the most prestige in the town of Rivera. The group has also been striving to gain sympathizers and members among the employees in the factories known as Pesce and Simone [REDACTED] Comment. Presumably Pesce y Simeone S.A.) in Montevideo.
